

Le futur avec WILL – WILL and the future

Il existe plusieurs façons d'exprimer le futur en anglais.

1) Petit Rappel de 6ème

Le futur d'intention : be going to + BV

Ex : Alan is going to play the piano.

(Sous entendu, Alan s'apprête à jouer du piano parce qu'il en a envie.)

2) L'auxiliaire modal WILL

Forme affirmative	Forme négative	Forme interrogative
WILL + base verbale He will be 16 in May.	WON'T + base verbale We won't come to the party.	WILL + sujet + base verbale ? Will you call me?

☀ Comme tous les auxiliaires, Will se place avant le sujet dans les questions et porte la négation dans les phrases négatives. Will not (forme pleine) = won't (forme contractée)

Utilisation de WILL

a) Avec WILL, je m'engage à faire l'action (comme une promesse) :

Tom will fix the car → Tom réparera la voiture

(Sous-entendu, « vous pouvez compter sur lui ».)

☀ La forme contractée de WILL est « ll » ⇒ Tom'll fix the ☀ La tournure négative WON'T exprime l'idée que l'action ne se fera pas.

Arthur and Bob won't come → Arthur et Bob ne viendront pas

(sous-entendu « c'est certain ! »)

I won't tell you. It's a secret! → Je ne te dirai rien. C'est un secret

(sous-entendu « même si tu insistes »)

b) Avec WILL je peux faire une prédiction, je parle d'un événement futur sans avoir la certitude que cela va se passer

In 2040, robots will replace teachers → En 2040, les robots remplaceront les professeurs.

In 2040, cars won't fly → En 2040, les voitures ne voleront pas.
